

Understanding Infinidrum® EDMS Security System

As a part of Infinidrum® EDMS' restrictive access system, Infinidrum® EDMS will shut itself down when any validation stages fail. If you receive the below message on the splash screen, the software has not been keyed to your machine or server. Note the Level number when contacting us for support.

If you receive the below message all validation was successful. Infinidrum® EDMS is properly keyed to your machine and the server. If an interface does not load after the below Interface disappears your home interface is not set. If you are hosting your own Interfaces, contact your In-house administrator. If we are hosting your Interfaces, please contact us.

Below is an example of a Home Interface:
